FRIDAY AFTERNOON, MAY 30.

WASHINGTON CITY AND WASHINGTON CITI-ZENS.-The most irrational infatuation with which our citizens are annually afflicted is, in our opinion, the desertion of Washington for summer jaunts abroad. Whether health, comfort, economy, personal safety or duty be considered, this is precisely the place where they should remain. Purer air, purer water, better products from garden, farm or dairy, better order, more perfect quiet, or better associates. cannot be found than they here leave. Our beautiful Potomac offers to the lovers of aquatic pleasures as rare delights as can be any where enjoyed; the Little and Great Falls of the Potomac-both within a few hours' ridepresent as beautiful scenery as the wearied mind can desire to dwell upon; the drives through and around our city, and upon the heights of Georgetown, and through the splendid country beyond, are more delightfully attractive than can be found at any one out of ten of the places for which they are deserted; our hotels and city residences are more spacious and convenient than are met with at the resorts either on the seashore or in the interior. If we have no medicinal fountains, it need not be regretted; for the many, especially from this region, do not travel the Rev. Alexander Keith, D. D., author of "The for health, nor need the aperients, diuretics, or Evidence of Prophecy." &c. The name of the other potent remedies of mineral springs. There author will be a passport for the volume to the are very few of the invalids visiting these places deed, because of the want of sanitary virtues in the waters, but because of the universally contagious practice of dieting on strong wines, roasts, broils, and fries, rich pastry, and every thing of which an invalid should not even inhale the odor!

Would it not be wise and politic in our citizens to improve the many advantages they possess? The majestic river that laves our shores is not made the scene of innocent sports and pleasures. There are beautiful places along its margin that should each be made the attractive resort of men and women who would pass an hour or a day apart from the cares of business. The prevailing idea that Washington is to be without interest during "the recess" is incorrect and suicidal. The excitement of "the session" is to many far from attractive: but the time is not distant in which the population and business of this city will be such as to cause the presence of Congress to be almost unnoticed in a social aspect.

A Case of Mystery. - We have to relate a pitiable case of distress-perhaps of crime and desertion-that has just come to our knowledge. Some four months ago a gentleman engaged apartments from a highly respectable widow lady of this city for himself and wife, where they have lived, almost unobserved, until within three or four weeks past. They promptly paid their rent, and lived without the aid of any servant. About three weeks ago the husband represented that it was necessary for him to be absent for a short time, as he was a travelling agent for a large establishment in New York city, for the sale of patented farming implements; and, although the lady was in such a condition as seemingly to require his presence with her, she rather encouraged him to attend to his duties, as she thought she would be well enough without him. On Thursday, 22d instant. the lady was delivered of a fine child: and on Saturday, although she had every care the kindest friends could have bestowed, she died. Her husband has been telegraphed in every direction, yet nothing can be learned respecting him. The child still lives, and will be adopted by a kind neighbor. Upon an examination of the letters and papers left by the deceased, it would re not their real names; and there is also vault of St. Patrick's church.

If any misfortune has befallen the husband of this poor woman, by which he is unable to return, he is surely entitled to our deepest commiseration; but if he has been guilty of de- extract the following: serting a woman in such an hour, whether wife or paramour, what punishment can equal his offence, or what scorn descend to baseness so vile and heartless. In a little time, however, we shall probably be enabled to reveal the whole truth of this melancholy affair. We may add, that the husband and wife were both highly intelligent, and of most genteel and prepossessing appearance and demeanor.

THE JENNY LIND MANIA has become a chronic affection in New York, and her concerts are give in Castle Garden a morning concert, the tion. This will be a very interesting case. Hon. Reverdy Johnson and Major G. Tochman appear for the heirs; and Messrs. R. S. Coxe. John Marbury, Wm. Redin, and H. M. Morfit, of this city, and - Schell, of New York, for the South Carolina alone, and believes that her seopposite party.

He or she may be American; but the name and music are no doubt foreign appendages. Therefore we should not claim the artist.

CEREMONY THIS AFTERNOON .- Mr. Z. Richards, Principal of the Preparatory School of Columbia College, is about to erect a most excellent and superb school-house, to be called "THE UNION ACADEMY." Its location will be at the intersection of New York avenue and Fourteenth street. It will front forty-three self. feet on the avenue and fifty-six on Fourteenth street. It will be two stories high—the walls ascending thirty feet. The whole lot purchased by Mr. R. to surround this edifice contains and referred to the exalted character of the 7,000 square feet, and will be well enclosed. The style, we understand, is to be of the most beautiful and approved of modern school architecture. The establishment will be furnished with the best and most recently designed furniture, the improvements on which have of late been very material. Complete and superior apparatus will also be provided.

The contractors and carpenters are J. M. Downing & Bro.; brickmakers, Mahoney & Floyd; John Flaherty, plasterer; David Finch law was right, proper, expedient, and just; and & Son, painters and glaziers.

The corner-stone will be laid by the Mayor at five o'clock this afternoon. Fisher's band has been engaged for the occasion, and we doubt not many gratified spectators will be present.

THE HARMONY OF PROPHECY.-Messrs. Taylor & Maury have presented us a volume fresh from the press of the Harpers, entitled "The Harmony of Prophecy; or Scriptural Illustrations of the Apocalypse." It is from the pen of library of every lover of the truths or literature who derive improvement from them-not, in- of the Bible. He professes to have but compared scriptures and collected facts "illustrative of the convergence of prophecy toward the > HARPER'S NEW MONTHLY for June has just been sent us by Mr. J. Shillington. It is a beautiful number, and the illustrations of Thompson's poem of summer are truly superb.

We are indebted to Mr. Franck Taylor for a copy of " Disturnell's United States National Register and Calendar for 1852." which contains valuable political and statistical information relating to this country and Canada, with a map of North America.

We are assured that the Menagerie of Messrs. G. C. QUICK & Co., to be exhibited on the City Hall lot on Monday next, contains some of the finest animals ever seen in this country. It will, no doubt, be visited by great multitudes of the people of this city and of the surrounding country.

The organ of hope has surely never been so prominently developed in any other human head as in that of the widow of Sir John Franklin; yet, if the searchers do not find the objects of their pursuit, other purposes may be accomplished that will richly reward all their labor.

We observe with pleasure that Mr. Hilbus has a very fine assortment of musical instruments. A good instrument is the first thing the amateur should obtain, a good teacher the second. With patient perseverance these will effect every thing desired.

A copy of Number XIX. of "The Farmer's Guide to Scientific and Practical Agriculture" has just been presented to us by Messrs. Taylor & Maury, the agents for the publishers in this city. Three more numbers will complete this most excellent and practical work.

THE MASSACHUSETTS COALITIONISTS .- Boston, May 28 .- One hundred and seventy members of the late Senate and House of Representatives of Massachusetts have published an address to the people, exposing and denouncing the bargain of the Democrats and Free-Soilers for the election of Governor, U. S. Senator, &c. The address says, "We think it due to the fair fame of our State, that such transactions should not go forth to the world in a silence which appear that all is not as it should be; that the might be construed into an admission that they names by which the parties were known here are in conformity with the usual principles and conduct of those who are trusted some mystery about their marriage, &c. He said he must be circumspect in expression of his views; referred to the compromise measures; considered all questions embraced in the compromise bill as settled, with the exception of the fugitive slave law. The enemies of that law were determined to oppose it bitterly, and the question must be met. He was willing to meet it by declaring that the passage of that in saying so he only repeated the language of the Constitution.

Slavery, he said, existed prior to the forma- pic-nic to the woods. tion of the Constitution; the present generation of people were not responsible for its introduction, but as they could not get rid of it, they must give it their protection.

U. S. EXAMINER OF DRUGS, &c .- A word or two relative to the recent appointment of Dr. Bailey, as Medical Examiner in the United States Customs, at the port of New York, is in justice due to that gentleman. On the 12th of July, 1848, Congress passed a law relating to the importation of adulterated and spurious drugs and medicines. To Dr. Bailey's determined and unceasing efforts the government and the country owe the passage of that law! While the subject was before the House of Representatives, he was requested to make a report to the committee to which the subject was re ferred; he cheerfully did so. Before the passage of the bill, he was called from New York to advise with the committee personally; he complied, and worked day and night, with the committee, from the moment of his arrival in Washington until the bill passed; and afterwards, he was requested by its chairman to as might be agreeable to him, a report of the same, prior to the next meeting of the National Medical Association. That report was published by the New York Academy of Medicine, and circulated far and wide over the country. It established an eminent reputation for its medical society in the Union, and from the pro

When the law passed creating the office of Medical Examiner, Dr. Bailey, without any application to the Government on his part, was selected as the most proper person to fill it. He was appointed in July, 1848, and was removed in about eighteen months afterwards; and then act surprised the medical profession. They protested against it. They declared that it was wounded also. I did not hear who the others were.

"A gentleman told me yesterday that he heard a member of the late convention say, he thought the passage of the resolutions of the Committee of 21 would induce New York and the contract of Congress, without distinction of party, who were acquainted with the circumstances under which this humane law was passed, considered the removal of Dr. Bailey as an act of great infree from party or political influences; that the best man should be appointed to carry out its creed should be regarded not quite so much as the health and lives of his fellow-citizens. With this understanding, Dr. Bailey, who had spent the best years of his life in the investigation of principles which finally governed the making of the law, was appointed, and his appointment was popular, and it was deserved.

A year or so passed away, and, without the slightest intimation of any fault on the Doctor's part, and probably without thought on the part of the Government, he was removed to give way for Dr. Van Wyck. There is scarcely a doubt but that the removal of Dr. Bailey was caused through some few discontented men, George Thompson, the English Abolitionist, has announced his intention of shortly returning home.

An Anti-secession Meeting is to be held at Hamburg, South Carolina, on the 31st inst., and several hundred citizens have signed the call. Judge Butler, General Hammond, and others have been invited to address the assemblage.
